ABOUT ME

"With 15 years of experience in IT, I am transitioning into the role of IT Project Manager, driven by a passion for managing large-scale technology projects and fostering digital transformation. My background includes significant experience in project management, IT infrastructure, and team leadership. I am adept at planning, organizing, and monitoring budgets, deadlines, risks, and quality. My ability to promote synergy between IT, business, and external partners, along with my strong communication skills, ensures effective stakeholder communication and project success. Throughout my career, I have successfully implemented methodological best practices, managed change, and guaranteed end-user satisfaction. My proactive approach to risk management and data analysis contributes to informed decision-making and continuous improvement."
